1 次の英文を読み、設問に答えなさい。

One of the greatest jazz artists of all time is Oscar Peterson. Recognized ( ① ) one of the most skillful and creative pianists of the last fifty years, Peterson has recorded hundreds of albums as a solo artist, with his own wonderful trio*, and with most of the major jazz performers of the last 70 years.

Peterson is a Canadian, born in Montreal in 1925. He grew up in a large musical family. At 14 years ( ② ) age he auditioned for a program ( ③ ) Canadian radio and was soon a regular performer. His greatest jump to being a jazz star came in the 1940s when he played ( ④ ) such musicians as Charlie Parker, Dizzy Gillespie, Duke Ellington, and others. Soon Peterson was recording with large orchestras and composing jazz-influenced classical music. However, it was with his trios that he made some of his best recordings.

Tragedy struck in 1993 when Oscar Peterson had a serious illness that almost killed him. His sickness made it impossible for him to play ( ⑤ ) many months. But hard work and long, painful hours of practice soon returned him to the concert stage, and he is still a much-loved musician. He regularly comes to Japan to perform, and was in Fukuoka just a few years ago. Peterson is a kind man and much loved by music fans around the world.
